The KOLDAS –ufocontact

(in Durban/South-Afrika from 1960>)

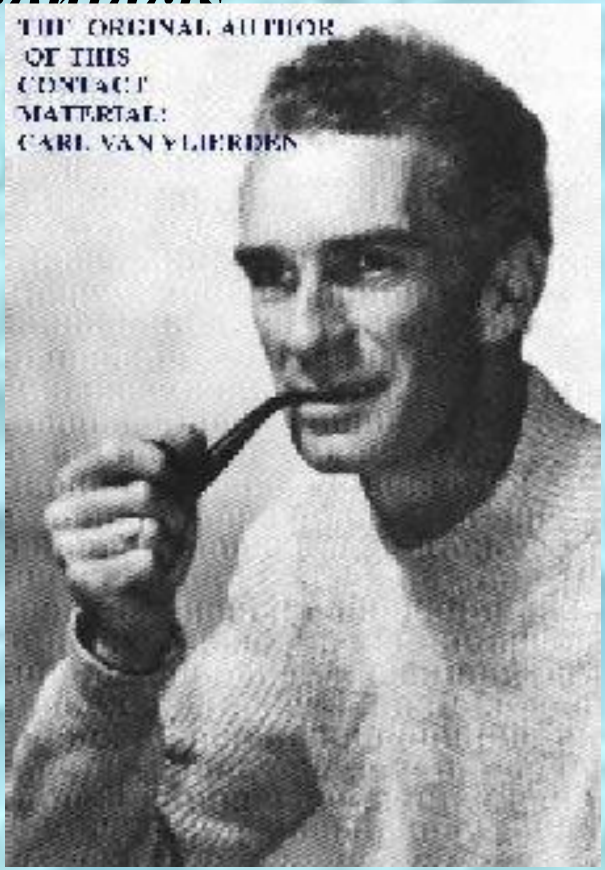

Picture of fishing outside Durban –south-Afrika- Where the contact began

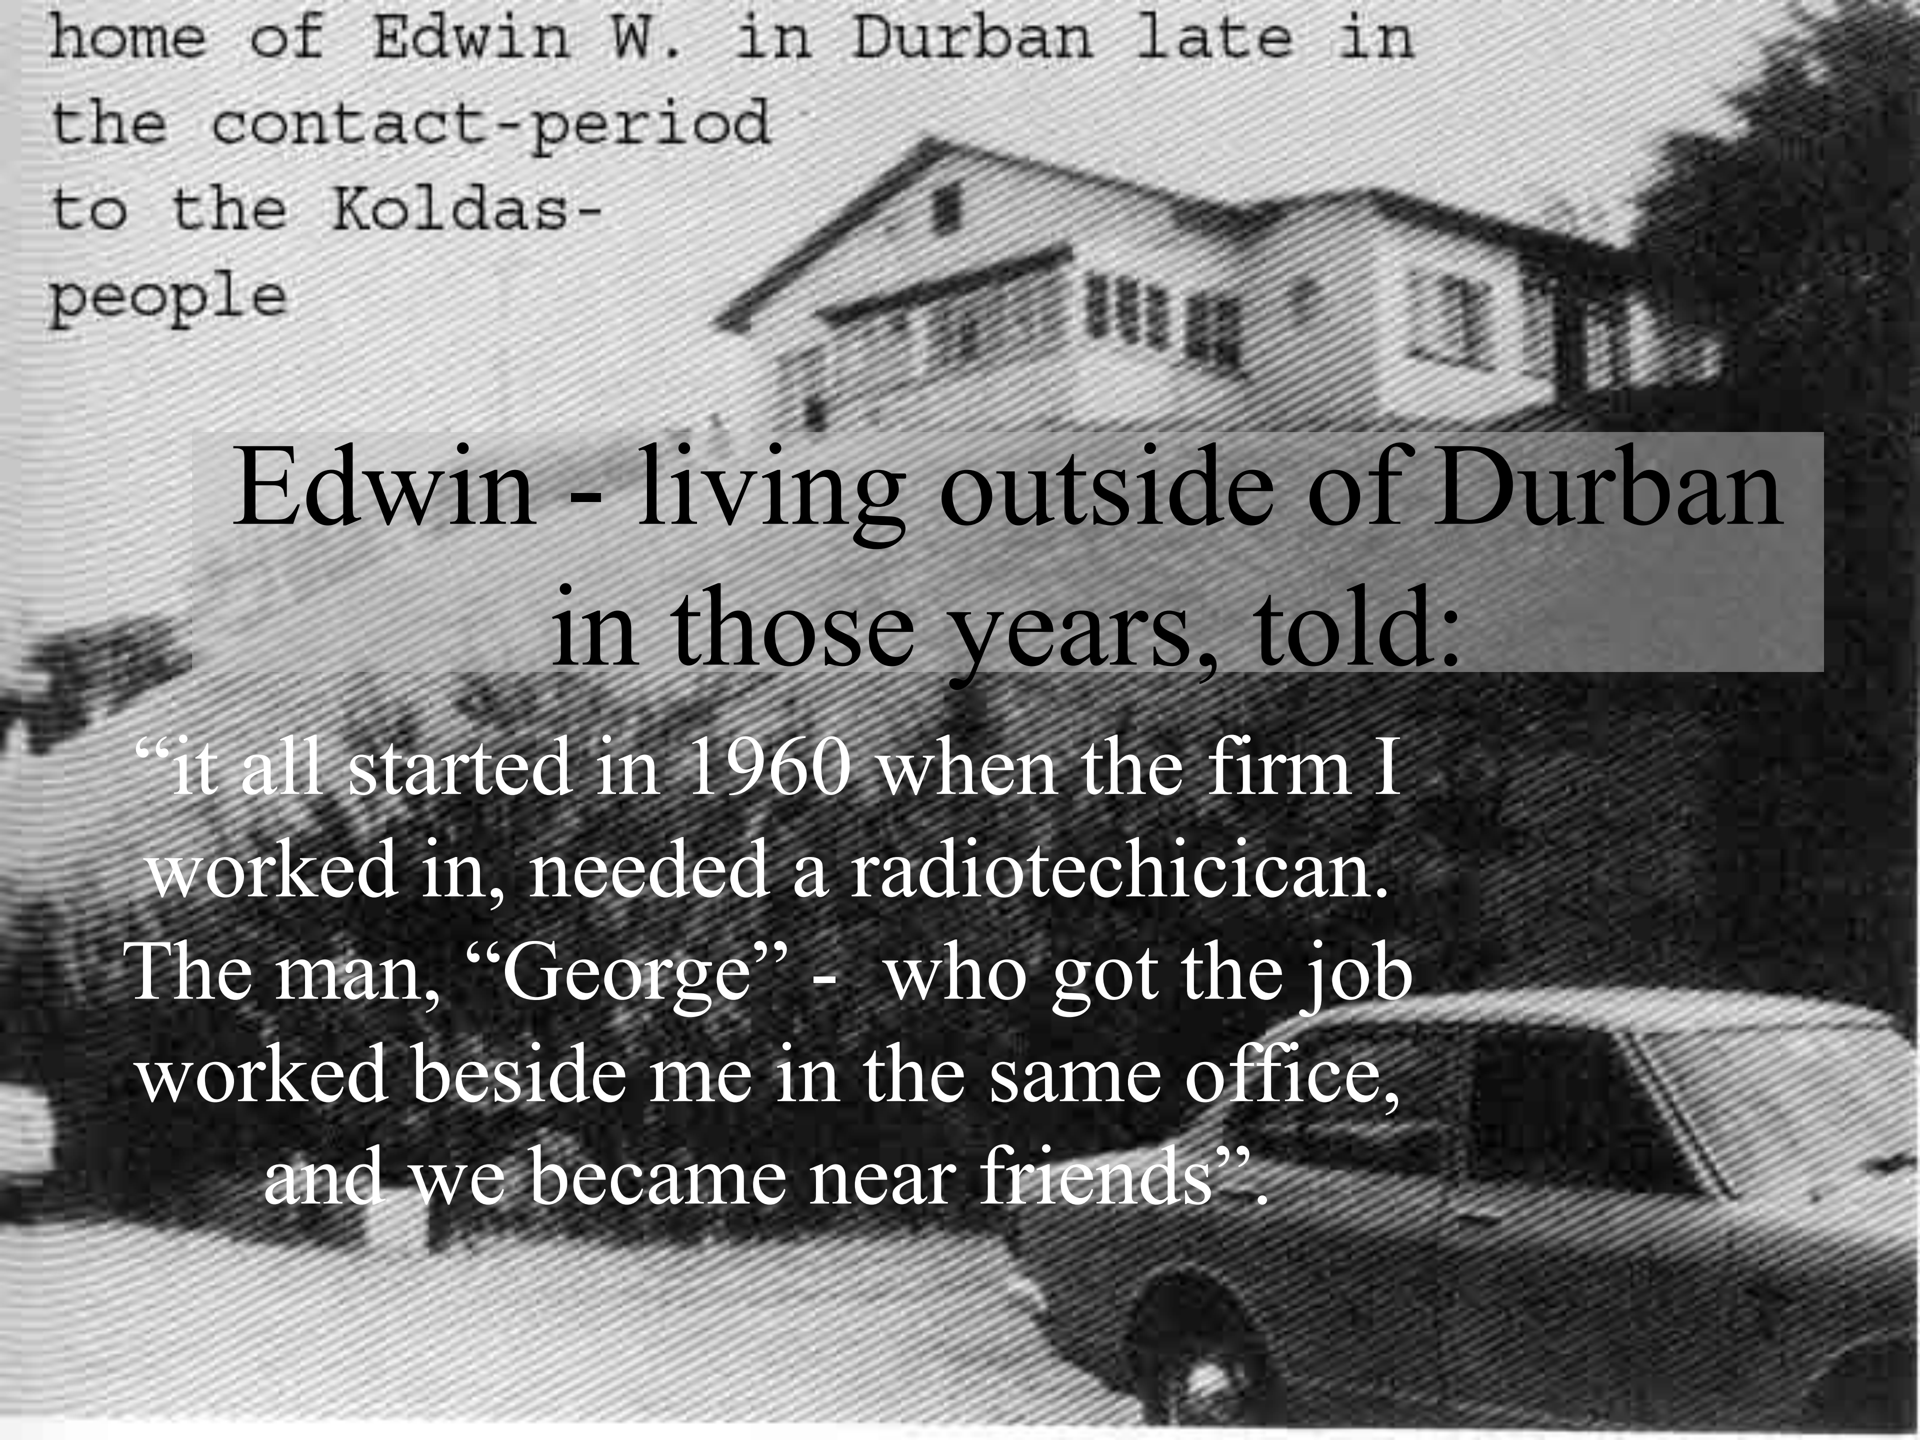

Contact after working together with a man in a radiofactory who he later witnessed being taken up and “home” from the shore outside Durban

This particular case is of special interest because it was carefully investigated and documented by highly competent and well experienced long time UFO investigators, one of whom became himself involved directly in the contacts.

- Carl Van Vlierden (picture) was a cautious researcher who didn't take anything for granted.

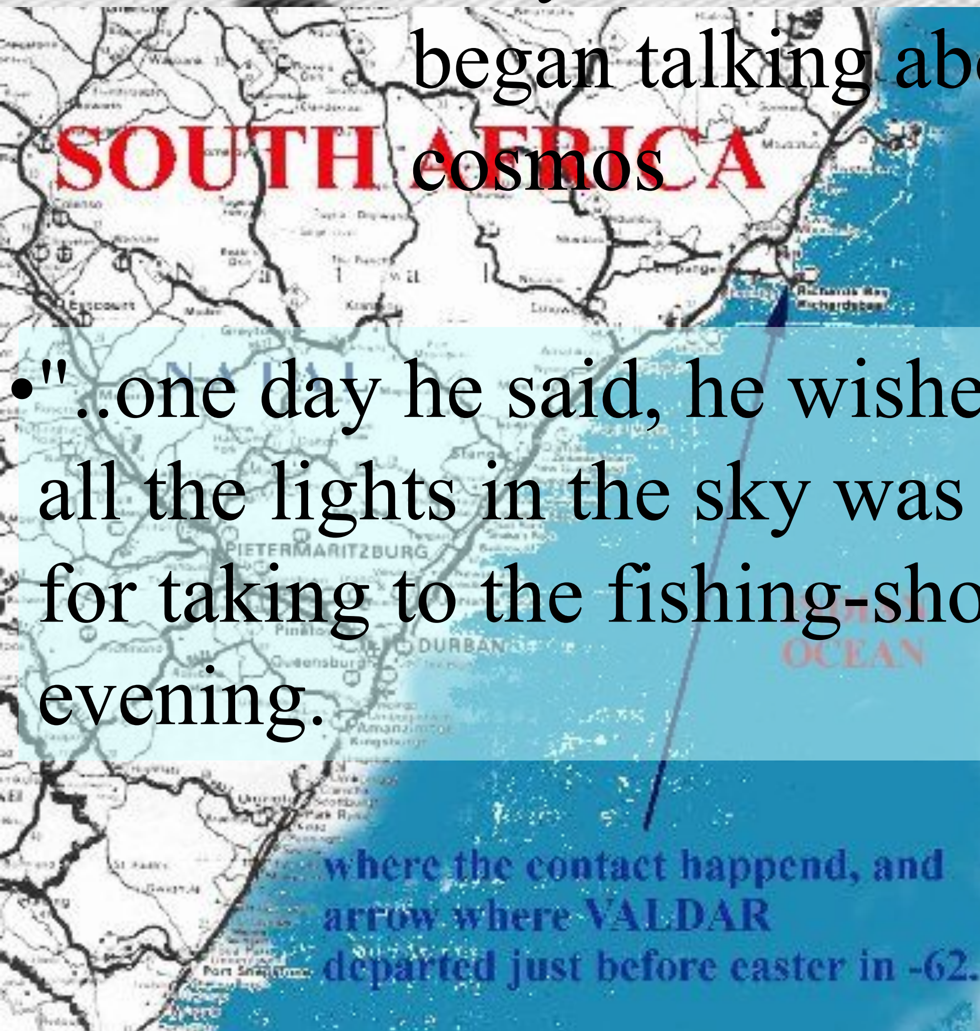

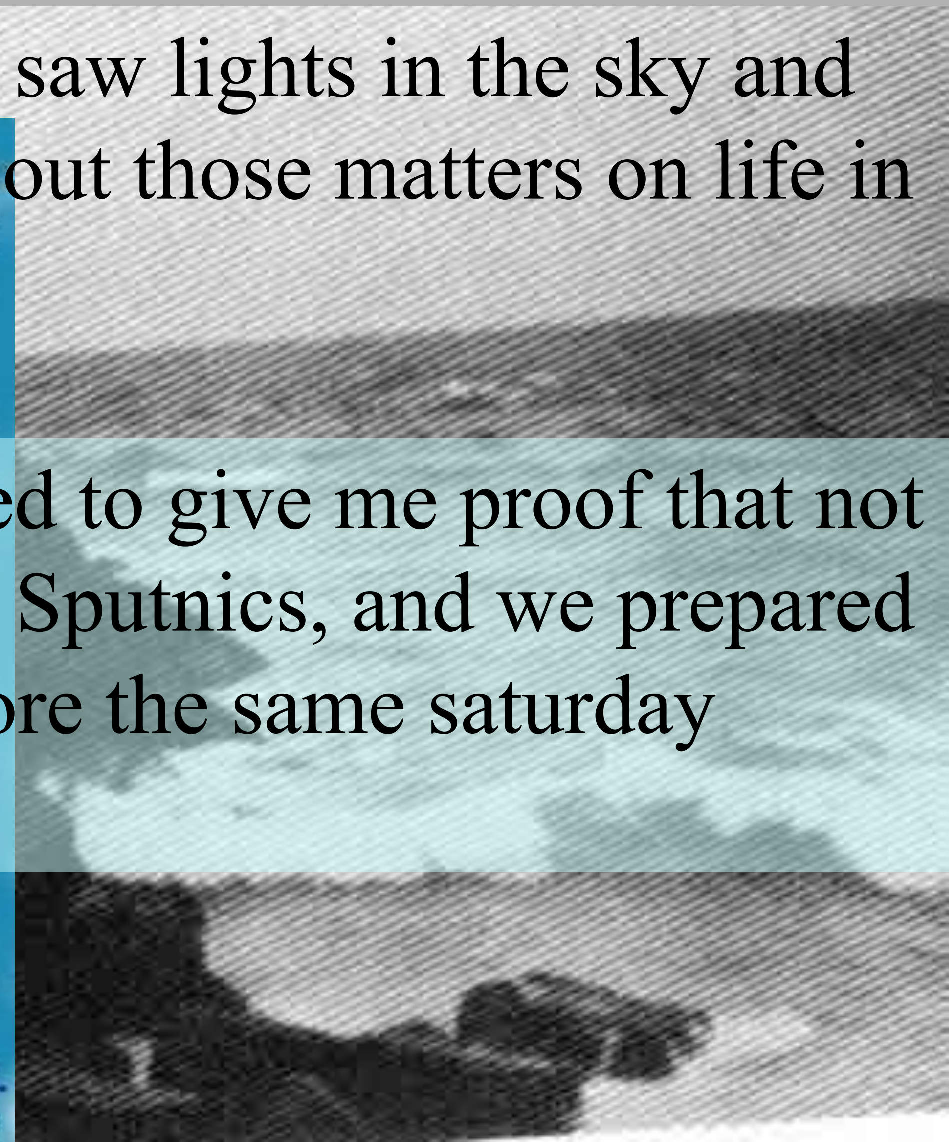

- He was one who must see for himself, and that was just what he did - for years in this case home of Edwin W. in Durban late in the contact-period to the Koldaspeople

Edwin - living outside of Durban
in those years, told:
“it all started in 1960 when the firm I worked in, needed a radiotechicican.
The man, “George” - who got the job worked beside me in the same office, and we became near friends”.

“George” stayed at a hotel nearby, and Edwin used to take him dayly on his motorcycle to work and also fishingtrips on the shore

- they sometimes saw lights in the sky and began talking about those matters on life in cosmos

- "..one day he said, he wished to give me proof that not all the lights in the sky was Sputnics, and we prepared for taking to the fishing-shore the same saturday evening.

"By midnight, the other fishermen were starting to move off and about 2 a.m. George and I were alone out there on the Groyne and the beach was also deserted. When the last person had left, George said, 'Let's forget about fishing now; I want to show you something.'

- "He put down his fishing rod and opened his case. I switched on my flash-light and was surprised to see that it contained a radio set.
- "This is a receiver, said George. Suddenly, to my surprise, I heard a strange language coming from the speaker. It was unlike any language I had ever heard before!

'It's all arranged," George said, clearly satisfied with what was taking place.

Just wait, he said, 'in about fifteen minutes look out over the sea.' Then, after ten minutes or so, I saw to my amazement a bright light above the water coming towards us. It grew larger as it approached and when it reached a point near the Bluff - a collection of sand-dunes overlooking Durban harbour

- "I heard the radio speaker coming to life again, this time much stronger.
- George seemed to understand what the voice was saying. I did not take much notice of what was happening on the radio as I was looking up at the light. This must be one of those spacecraft, I thought to myself.

The dock at Patterson's Groyne from which they fished - where Edwin first saw the Koldas-ship for the first time.

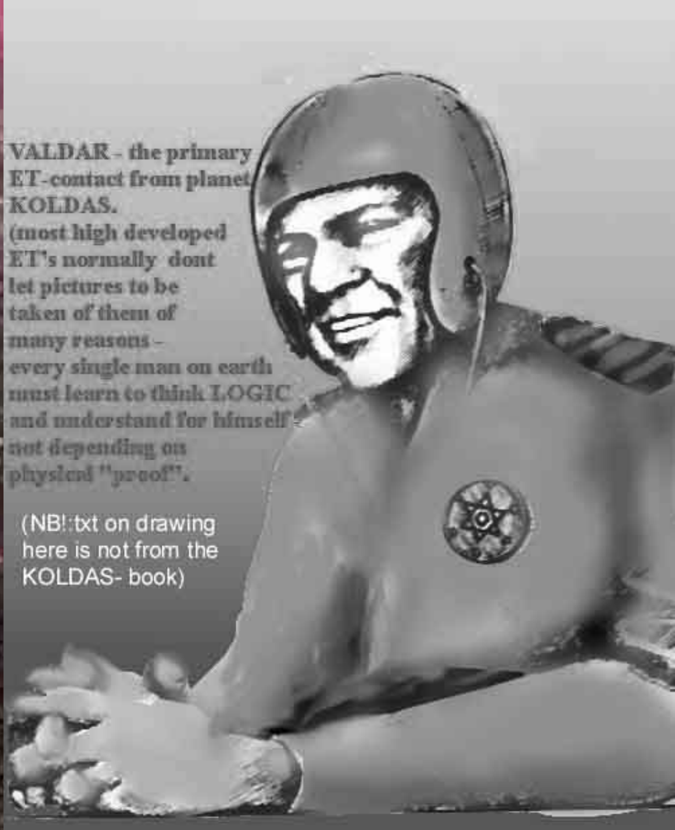

George said to me, 'Edwin, listen carefully.' I drew nearer to the instrument but still kept an eye on the object above us.

- "Then I heard this voice again. This time it was in English and I could understand it clearly. The voice said, after addressing me by name, that he was the Commander of the spacecraft above us and his name was Wy-Ora. He then explained who George was. That he was one of them and that he had come to live on our planet for a few years to study the conditions, the people and their habits, and so on.

"One of his tasks was to find someone who would be willing to start a group so that information about life in space could be given to those who were interested. He also told me that George's true name was Valdar and that I had been selected by him to start the group of people. He explained that they came from the planet Koldas in another (parallel) Universe and that he hoped I would accept the job of starting such a group.

"I was thunderstruck! At that time I was 16 years old and I felt I was inexperienced and not qualified for such a task. However, I was subsequently told that I would be trained and that in all probability I would meet others who would assist in the work.

Edwin said: “So the contact started – and from then everything went fast”

(picture from Durban 1960)

- George(Valdar)stayed 2 years on Earth. In that time he systematic went through every source of information in Durban – libraries, museums, churches and so on.

- They - he and Edwin - also went to some spiritual meetings. He wanted to learn as much as possible from and on all spiritual groups and –views

"From that night on, whenever I was alone with him, I called him by his real name, Valdar. He told me a lot about his home planet Koldas and about the confederation of planets.

Before he left he had modified an ordinary radio through which they could maintain the contact – and through which they got hundred of hours with cosmic information regarding their homeworld, how they travel through dimension corridors, etc.

Valdar said, 'If only you Earthlings knew how many visitors from space are among you, you would be very surprised.'

He said that nearly every country is visited by them.

"Then, after staying for about two years, Valdar said to me, 'It's time for my return.' It was a sad day indeed when I took him by car to Richards' Bay before Easter that year

"As it came closer, I could see how enormous it was. It must have been close to 50 meters in diameter.

(This I checked later when I returned to the spot with a tape-measure and measured the distance between some landmarks that I remembered.)

He had two suitcases with him and the radio he had used that memorable night on Patterson's Groyne.

"When he left, I felt very lonely, as you can imagine. It seemed I had no friends at all after he had gone! I got so used to his company and his voice, his ways... He had told me so much about his planet and the way of life there that I found it difficult to go back to the normal everyday, rather shallow type of relationships I had had before…"

"There was simply no-one else with whom I could share my recent experiences. I guess that's why these radio contacts have played such an important part in my life since then.

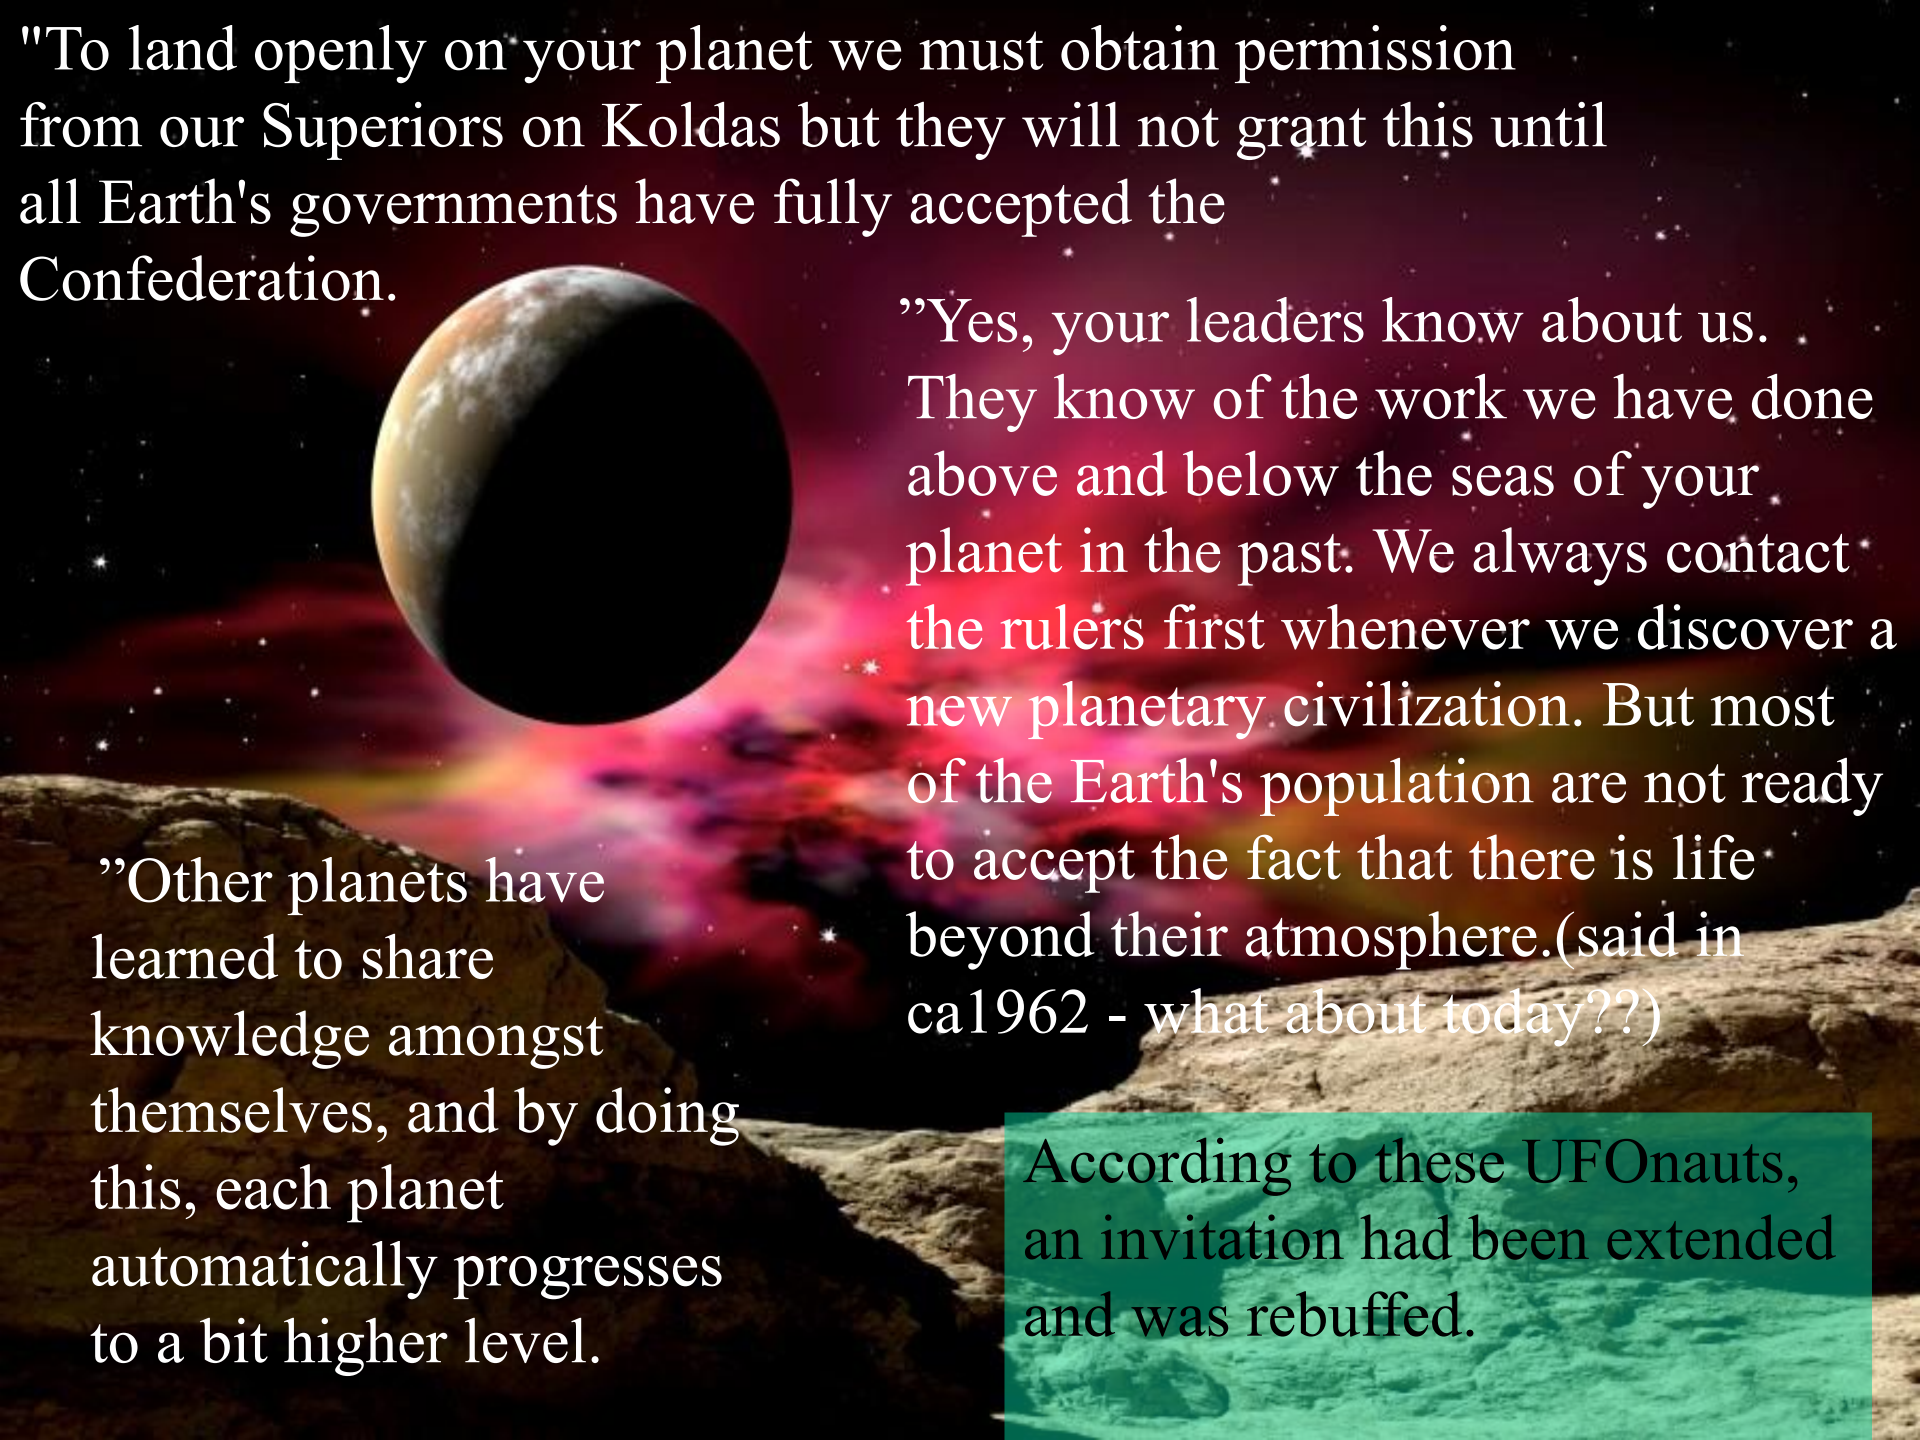

From the first radio-contacts:

"Why are Earth people so different?" asked Wy-Ora, in a radio transmission to 'Q' Base, the name he gave to Edwin's group. "The rulers of several other planets in our Universe have received us with open arms. Indeed, very recently, Koldas has established friendly trade relations with ”Pyrole”, a planet that has reached the same level of evolution as Earth.

”I feel sure that in time to come, those who make the decisions on your planet will accept us. Then all the knowledge we have gained will be given to you freely. You will also learn the secrets of the universes, galaxies and solar systems that lie beyond your Earth.

Picture is from ”Semjase-contacts” in Switzerland in 1975/6)

"To land openly on your planet we must obtain permission from our Superiors on Koldas but they will not grant this until all Earth's governments have fully accepted the Confederation.
"Yes, your leaders know about us. They know of the work we have done above and below the seas of your planet in the past. We always contact the rulers first whenever we discover a new planetary civilization. But most of the Earth's population are not ready to accept the fact that there is life beyond their atmosphere.(said in ca1962 - what about today??)
"Other planets have learned to share knowledge amongst themselves, and by doing this, each planet automatically progresses to a bit higher level.
According to these UFOnauts, an invitation had been extended and was rebuffed.

Koldas, the home planet of Wy-Ora and Valdar, is one of eight in a solar system that is part of a Confederation of Twelve Planets, or more accurately, 12 solar systems.

- Koldas, which is larger than Earth, is the principal planet of its solar system and most of the population live there
- All the planets in the Confederation are in another universe, to which they travel thru dimentions and time.

•The bulk of the industrial activity of that solar system is located on Koldas' two neighboring planets.

- A large fleet of freight and passenger-craft glide rapidly along the magnetic pathways
- Some craft are capable of carrying thousands of people..
- Long distance cargo-carriers and space-cruisers link the Koldasian solar system with the other members of the Confederation.

Wy-Ora said, "We owe our present level of civilization and technology to the ”Grandorians” who taught our primitive ancestors a better way of life. They took some of our people to Grandor where they were instructed by wise and wonderful teachers."

”Grandor is the "mother" planet of the confederation. It is an old planet and her people are the oldest race known to us. They travelled through endless corridors of space in their craft to search for new planets and this is how they discovered Koldas”

”They found a race of people who were primitive and whose knowledge did not extend beyond their own horizons. Grandorian missionaries landed on Koldas after obtaining permission from local rulers. They brought their highly evolved civilization with them and eventually Grandorians and Koldasians intermarried and a new age dawned for the Koldasian solar system.

DIAGRAM OF THE FIVE YEAR BREAK IN THE MAGNETIC LINK BETWEEN THE OPPOSITE BUTINTERRELATED UNIVERSES

Sounds like pure science-fiction and a wild story?

Ok- just like the high tech of modern day was ”imagination and fantasy” just 200years ago and still are to the few ”wild tribes” still left

Some of the spiritual wisdom they sent through the radio besides the ”planet-info” from their home-world:

”The task of man's soul is to rule the material body by overcoming material desires.

"When this is accomplished, the soul will be called back to the great source and forever live in perfect joy and happiness.
